

Opportunity

Position: Senior FX Advisor

Location: Zurich

Reference: DA 395

An exciting job opportunity within the dynamic and fast-paced FX Advisory team. You will need previous experience in FX products (spot, futures, forwards and preferably structured products), ideally Private Banking knowledge and a positive, client-focused approach.

Role

You will join an active team that is responsible for delivering up-to-date advice, prices and execution on Foreign Exchange products to a number of internal and external clients in the EMEA region.

Your responsibility will lie in servicing the Relationship and Investment Managers as well as being the Direct Access Clients, reacting quickly to pricing inquiries, but also being highly proactive in approaching them with relevant trading ideas, strategies and appropriately structured products. Knowledge of developments in the current FX market will be important.

Aside from the above responsibilities you will also be required to participate in client meetings as the specialist in Foreign Exchange.

Requirements

- 3-6 years' experience in FX investments advisory with good understanding to complex deal structures
- Good communication skills, honed sales style and a proactive attitude
- Ability to work well under pressure
- Capable of communicating with different personality types and building trust
- Prior experience in advising Private Clients and Relationship Managers
- Fluency in English is a must. Proficiency in German is an advantage
